

This is a good family film.

When the Christmas wishes of an entire classroom start to come true, a young girl named Olivia longs for the father she never had, and meets a mysterious neighbor who may be able to give her exactly that as the snow begins to fall on their quaint suburban town.